SCRAMBLED SUSPECTS by Mark Lagasse

We've all read and enjoyed classic mysteries from the golden age, so we're fairly familiar with the typical characters who populate these stories. These are the folks whom a detective, his or her assistant, and a police inspector all face in order to solve a murder case . . . in other words, the usual suspects! To solve this puzzle, simply unscramble the letters of each numbered entry below to spell the generic title of a possible perpetrator in an old whodunit. For example, INITIAL COP would be "politician."

1. HE RISES
2. RAW LYE
3. CASTERS
4. MR. GLEN CAY
5. RED ANGER
6. SONG VERSE
7. BY A PLOY
8. AMID
9. I EAT COILS
10. COD ROT
